Manufactured and modular housing fiberglass drywall tape

UltraX™

DRYWALL TAPE

- Patented multi-directional design
- 60% stronger than standard mesh tape

Added protection for wall and ceiling joints

UltraX™ saves manufacturers time and money by reducing the amount of repairs needed after relocation

UltraX™ FibaTape® fiberglass drywall tape for manufactured and modular homes is the latest innovation from Saint-Gobain ADFORS. The self-adhesive mesh tape features a patented multi-directional construction that provides added strength for reinforcing joints in drywall. This construction is especially important in the manufactured and modular housing industry as it provides added protection to wall and ceiling joints throughout the building and relocation process.

- Patented multi-directional design - Additional fiberglass and extra adhesive help offset lateral movement in a crack, increasing joint strength and structural integrity
- Increased strength - 60% stronger than standard mesh
- Wider width - Provides better gap coverage and stress distribution
- High performance adhesive - Maximum hold and easy application. Works well in fluctuating temperatures, and high humidity environments.
- Smooth finish - Eliminates blisters and bubbles commonly found when applying paper tape. May be used with all purpose or setting type compounds.
- Patch & repair - Works great for patch and repair
